Position Description:

The School of Modern Languages in the Ivan Allen College of Liberal Arts at the Georgia Institute of Technology has an opening for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor of German to begin in August 2019. Candidates must hold a PhD in German Literature & Culture or a closely related field of study, native or near-native German fluency, promise or evidence of outstanding scholarly achievement, and excellent teaching skills. Preferred areas of specialization include contemporary German-speaking culture and literary film studies, with interdisciplinary emphases in gender studies, multiculturalism and migration, and science, medicine, and technology studies. The successful candidate should have an interest in content-based, applied language approaches and the ability to teach and develop a wide variety of courses in support of an innovative German Studies curriculum on the undergraduate and graduate levels. Interest in or experience with teaching business-and technology oriented German and leadership in an immersive faculty-led study-abroad program oriented toward business and technology is crucial for this appointment. The successful candidate will teach two German courses per semester.
